2 RISK FACTORS

An investment in corporate notes always involves a certain degree of risk. A number of factors affect and may come to affect MaxFastigheter i Sverige AB (publ) (the “Issuer”) and its direct and indirect subsidiaries (the “Group”) operations, earnings, financial position, future prospects and result (the “Group’s Financial Position”) and thereby the Issuer’s ability to fulfil its payment obligations under the maximum SEK 500,000,000 senior unsecured floating rate notes 2017/2020 (the “Notes”) and the market value of the Notes. Below is a description of risk factors which the Issuer considers to be the most relevant to an assessment by a potential investor of whether to invest in the Notes. However, potential investors should note that the below risk factors are neither exhaustive nor ranked in order of importance. The intention is to describe risks that are linked to the Group’s operations and the Issuer’s ability to fulfil its obligations in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Notes (the “Terms and Conditions”) and to describe the risks related to an investment in the Notes.

Unless otherwise defined, capitalised words and expressions used herein shall have the same meaning given thereto in the term sheet (the “Term Sheet”) in which an overview of the terms and conditions of the Notes is outlined (which does not purport to be complete, and is qualified in its entirety by the final Terms and Conditions).

Before making a decision to invest in the Notes, any potential investor should carefully consider the risk factors outlined below, as well as any other information provided (such as the final Terms and Conditions and any publicly available financial and other information regarding the Issuer and the Group). In addition, an investor must, alone or together with its financial and any other adviser it deems appropriate, engage in an analysis of the global market conditions and general information about the markets in which the Group operates from its own perspective. An investor should have adequate knowledge to evaluate the risk factors as well as sufficient financial strength to assume these risks.

2.1 Risks relating to the Issuer and the Group

2.1.1 Macroeconomic factors

The Group’s business is affected by macroeconomic factors which are outside the Group’s control. These factors include, but are not limited to, the growth of the gross domestic product (GDP), unemployment and population structure, inflation and deflation (if any), level of production of new premises and residential real properties, as well as possibility of raising financing for the Group. A weak economic trend has a negative impact on, for example, the demand for premises, which in turn may lead to increased vacancies, declining market rents as well as non-indexation to the Group’s current leases. Furthermore, there would be an increased risk of tenants in financial difficulties, or even tenants going bankrupt, which would have an immediate and negative effect on the Group’s cash flow. A limited capital supply, due to, for example, general difficulties in raising financing (or financing on for the Group acceptable terms) impedes the Group’s ability to conduct business. General economic recessions may also affect the market value of the Group’s real properties. Should any of these risks be realised, it could have an adverse effect on the Group’s Financial Position.

2.1.2 Competition

The Group owns and manages commercial real properties, mainly within the retail, recreation and community segments, in an industry involving both private and public operators. The competitiveness of the Group depends, inter alia, on the Group’s ability to attract and keep tenants, to anticipate future changes and trends in the real estate industry and to swiftly adapt to current and future market demands. The Group may therefore need to make costly investments, restructurings or price reductions. In addition, the Group’s competitors may have better capacity and resources to handle economic downturns, compete in a more successful way, be better on maintaining competent employees, and respond more swiftly to changes in tenant's needs. If the Group cannot compete in a successful way, it may significantly affect rental rates and vacancy rates, and the Group's revenues could decrease, which in turn could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.3 Geographical and future development risks

The composition of the Group's real property holdings may be affected by an incorrect geographical allocation, meaning that the Group owns real property in the wrong sectional market, city or location, with respect to, among other things, future growth and urbanisation trends, or that the Group owns real property which are not future-proof based on customer preferences, technical requirements, "micro allocation" or flexibility in use and contractual terms. Real properties which in turn are not future-proof involve a greater risk of increased vacancies, which may lead to reduced property value or that the Group must make costly investments. Real property requires regular renovations to maintain, improve or adapt its technical status. If the Group fails to identify and fund the necessary technical improvements to future-proof its real property holdings, it could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.4 Changes in real property value

Changes in value of the Group's real property holdings may arise as a result of macroeconomic- or microeconomic reasons or property-specific reasons (usually cash flow related). In addition, there is a risk that the real property holdings are incorrectly valued. Changes in property value affect the income statement as well as the Group's Financial Position. Major negative changes in property value may ultimately lead to the Group defaulting on its obligations under credit agreements, which in turn may lead to increased financing costs, or, in worst case, acceleration or early termination by creditors. The Group applies IFRS (International Financial Reporting Standards, as adopted by the EU) and consequently reports all real property at fair value in the balance sheet and changes to the value of real property are continuously reported in the income statement. Should any of the risks mentioned above be realised, it could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.5 Property management risks

Agreements are often negotiated with professionals expecting the Group to act professionally. If the Group does not act professionally, it may affect the Group's chances of conducting a profitable real property management division in the long run, consequently affecting the Group's profits and good standing. Part of real property management is being keenly aware to tenant's needs and trying to improve such relationship and comply with tenants' requests. There is a risk that the Group cannot meet its tenants' requests and, due to competition, does not have sufficient resources to keep or attract tenants, which could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.6 Property development risks

Each decision regarding the development of the Group's real properties involve future assumptions of the return on the investments, including rent levels, vacancies, interest rates and financing possibilities. This also includes assessments and assumptions of tenants' requests.

Decisions based on incorrect assumptions or changed preconditions during the investment period may result in low or negative returns as well as a negative impact on future growth. New construction and rebuilding are exposed to production risks. Contractors, suppliers, materials and technical solutions that do not live up to expectations, contract or standards may adversely affect the Group's property development. New construction and rebuilding include hazards related to the working environment, where accidents and negative environmental influences may have an adverse effect on the Group. If the Group makes inapt decisions on the development and new construction of its real properties, it could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.7 Real property costs

Real property costs include operating costs, tariff-based costs, costs in relation to real property management, administrative costs, insurance costs, real property taxes and other costs. Electricity prices are driven by supply and demand in an open, deregulated and partly international market. Other operating costs are partly governed by local monopolies, leading to uncertainty of future costs. Operating costs are, for instance, costs for maintenance and repairs as a result of terms and conditions in leases and regulatory requirements. If the Group does not perform maintenance and repairs in accordance with such provisions, the Group may incur liability or fines. For example, the National Board of Housing, Building and Planning (Boverket) continuously promulgates new regulations on the design, safety and surveillance of elevators, as well as regulations and recommendations on accessibility. Adapting real properties to new regulations is generally associated with costs. Operating real properties may also be affected by design errors, other hidden faults or deficiencies (such as power failures, asbestos or mould), damages (for example due to fire or other natural causes) and pollutions, and the Group may need to repair or remedy such defects due to contractual or regulatory requirements. Should any of the risks mentioned above be realised, it may result in significant unforeseen costs for the Group, and have an adverse effect on the attractiveness of the Group's real properties, require significant costs to remedy or repair and result in declining rental rates and rental income, which in turn could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.8 Risks related to acquisitions

Part of the Group's business is to acquire real properties and real property holding companies. The ability to execute general acquisition strategies may be limited by external factors such as competition, demand for attractive objects, financing possibilities, economic market situation and price levels of investment objects. Consequently, the Group's acquisition strategy may not be complied with or transactions may affect the Group negatively. Completed acquisitions may have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position if, e.g. unexpected vacancies occur, accounting and/or economic assumptions do not match and/or unforeseen environmental requirements or tax claims arise.

Should the Group miscalculate any of these effects, it may adversely affect the Group's Financial Position. When integrating operations and staff in connection with acquisitions, projected positive effects may be lost and processes may be delayed and require more resources than the Group has assumed. If the Group makes incorrect assumptions in relation to the above transactional risks, it could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.9 Risks related to disposals

The Group may, from time to time, dispose real properties in order to adapt and optimise its property holding to market needs. The Group may also dispose real properties in order to finance investments, such as the acquisition of real properties or new construction and property development. Consequently, the Group is dependent on a liquid real property market, which in turn is dependent on several factors, such as macroeconomic conditions, changes in the financial position of potential buyers and their respective financing conditions, changes in national or international economic conditions and changes in laws, regulations or tax policies. In addition to the adverse effect on the Group's potential to pursue attractive investment opportunities, an illiquid real property market could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.10 Rental income

Rental income from the Group's tenants may be negatively impacted by a number of different factors, such as decreasing market rents, non-indexation, laws, rules or regulations limiting the right to indexation of rent, reduced surface area demands, increased vacancies, decreased demand or increased customer losses. When developing real properties, the increased quality is often compensated by an increased rent. If investments are delayed or become more expensive than estimated, it may involve a risk of falling profitability due to rental income not covering the costs incurred which could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.11 Legal risks

The Group's business is largely dependent on laws and enactments, regulations and governmental decisions regarding planning and construction measures, environmental considerations, safety and leasing. In order for the Group's real properties to be used and developed as intended, relevant permits and governmental decisions, for example surrounding the local plans and various forms of property registrations, are required. There is a risk that the Group will not be granted or receive the necessary permits to conduct and develop the business in a desirable manner, which may adversely affect the Group's Financial Position. There is also a risk of changes to applicable legislation, which the Group or its customers must comply with. This could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.12 Disputes

The Group is not involved in any legal dispute or arbitration proceeding which has, or has had, any significant effect on the Group's Financial Position. Neither does the Group know of any relevant facts which would bring about any such legal or arbitration proceedings. There is, however, a risk that the Group may be involved in such disputes in the future. Disputes, claims, investigations and legal proceedings may result in the Group being liable to pay damages or to terminate certain operations. In addition, the Group, or its board members, managers, employees or affiliated companies, may be subject to investigations or criminal proceedings. Such disputes, claims, investigations, and legal proceedings may be time consuming, disturb the day-to-day business, including claims for substantial amounts, and incur significant litigation expenses. In addition, it may be difficult to predict the outcome of complex disputes, claims, investigations and legal proceedings. Consequently, disputes, claims, investigations and legal proceedings could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.13 Environmental risks

The responsibility to remedial contaminations and other environmental damages on a property is, pursuant to the current environmental laws, vested in the business operator who caused the environmental damage (polluter pays principle). If no such operator can be held responsible for such damages, or lacks the ability to pay for the remedial measures necessary, the Swedish Environmental Code (miljöbalken (1998:808)) stipulates a secondary responsibility for a party that acquires a contaminated property. However, such responsibility requires that the purchaser of the property either was aware or should have discovered the environmental damages. Furthermore, in a situation that the Group acquires a property previously used for industrial or similar purposes, the business operator is in general only required to finance remedial measures so that the property is deemed usable for industrial use.

If one or several of the above factors would develop negatively or if any of the described risks would materialise, it could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.14 Reputational risks

The Group's ability to attract and keep tenants is, to some extent, dependent on its reputation and consequently the Group's business is sensitive to risks related to reputational damages. The Group's reputation may, for example, be adversely affected by rumours, negative publicity or other factors which could lead to the Group no longer being considered a competent and serious operator on the real property market. Should the Group's reputation deteriorate, or if the Group is subject to negative publicity, it may lead to reduced competitiveness, consume management's time and resources and also cause additional costs for the Group, which could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.15 Insurance risks

The Group's insurance cover may be inadequate to compensate for damages related to, for example, the Group's real properties. In particular, certain types of risks (such as war, acts of terrorism, inadequate preparation in events of natural disasters or extreme weather conditions, such as flooding) may be, or may become, impossible or too costly for the Group to insure. Should damages to a real property occur, and subsequently lead to tenants terminating or not renewing their leases, there is a risk that the Group's insurance does not cover such loss of rental income. If an uninsured damage would occur, or if the damage exceeds the insurance cover, the Group may lose the capital invested in the property as well as future income from the property. The Group may also be held responsible for repairing damages caused by uninsured risks. In addition, the Group may be held responsible for liabilities and other financial obligations in relation to damaged real properties. As a result, uninsured losses, or losses exceeding the insurance cover, could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.16 Risks related to key employees

The Group has a relatively small organisation, which means it is dependent on individual key employees. The future development of the Group is highly dependent on the management's as well as other key employees' skills, knowledge, experience and commitment. If the Group is unable to keep and recruit high-level management personnel and other competent personnel on reasonable terms it could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.17 Risks related to tax classification of management and trading of real property

The Group's business is conducted through several subsidiaries with tax residence in Sweden. The business includes management, development, acquisition and disposals of real properties. As transactions of real properties are part of the business there is a risk that special tax rules apply in case real properties are deemed inventories and not capital assets. The classification of the Group's properties as inventory or capital assets affects taxation, if any, of received dividends and profit from the disposal of properties. It also affects the conditions for the use of group contributions (koncernbidrag). The distinction between property management and property trading is not clearly expressed in laws and regulations, but has evolved by case law. The most important criteria when deciding if the regulations for real property trade apply seem to be the quantity of real property transactions made, as well as the amount of time the trade objects have been in the company's possession and the purpose of the transactions. The preparatory work to the law states that the quantity of property transactions must be seen in relation to the size of the company, meaning that the scope of acquiring and disposing real properties, without it being seen as property trade, is wider for listed real property management companies.

If the Group's interpretation of tax legislation, tax treaties and other tax regulations or its application is incorrect, if one or more of the authorities successfully make negative tax adjustments in respect of a division within the Group, or if the existing laws, treaties, regulations or official interpretations of these, or if the administrative legal practise in relation to these are amended, including changes with retroactive force, the Group's previous and current dealings with tax issues may be questioned. If any authority successfully makes such claim, it may lead to increased tax costs, including tax surcharge and interest. As a consequence, the Group's tax deficit may be reduced.

Should the Group fail to adequately interpret and comply with the tax regulations that are applicable for the Group and its business, it could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.18 Tax legislation

A number of legislations and regulations, competition regulations, construction and environmental regulations, taxes and rules affect the business conducted by the Group. New or amended legislations and regulations could call for unexpected costs or impose restrictions on the development of the business operations or otherwise affect net sales. The Group runs a capital intensive business and have significant interest expenses. If the Group is subject to limitations of the deductions related to interest and capital expenses it could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

On 30 March 2017 a government committee proposed new tax legislation affecting the property transaction market, mainly with the purpose of creating neutral taxation between a direct transfer of a property and a sale through transfer of shares in a property owning company. The proposal entails that the property, if sold through a share transfer, shall be deemed as sold and purchased for market value by the property holding company, thus realising capital gains tax. Furthermore, the committee proposed a tax corresponding to stamp duty to be issued on a share purchase of a property holding company. Furthermore, new legislation by the European Union regarding tax evasion is to be implemented in Sweden prior to 1 January 2019 meaning, inter alia, that the right to interest deductions shall be limited to a certain per cent. of EBITDA for every company subject to tax within the European Union. New case law on the tax area may be applied retroactively, and there is a risk that it affects the Group's business. If the Group is subject to such retroactive application it could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.19 Tax deductibility

Amendments to the tax legislation leading to altered possibilities of tax depreciation or possibilities of deductible deficiency may cause a change in the future tax situation. The possibilities of using deductible deficiency may also be limited by changes to the Group's ownership structure, for example if a group of natural persons together acquire more than 50 per cent. of the shares in the Issuer during a five-year period and each person owns or acquires at least five per cent. of the shares in the Issuer. Such persons do not need to cooperate jointly or even have awareness of each other for the limitation to apply. Depending on how the rule is interpreted, even minor changes to the ownership structure may limit the deficiencies.

The possibility of deduction may be changed or lost if amendments to the tax legislation occur or if the ownership structure of the Group is changed.

If the Group's deductibility of tax deficiencies is changed it may affect the Group's amounts the Group should pay in taxes that could lead to a tax surcharge which could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.20 Classification of properties

The Group conducts ongoing investments in its real properties by new construction and property development. Such property investments are classified, on a tax basis, on a perspective on direct deduction and depreciation. Since such classifications are based on the interpretation of existing tax legislation and case law they may become challenged. The tax legislation may also be amended. Should the Swedish Tax Agency (Skatteverket) successfully claim that the Group has erred in its classification, or if tax legislation is amended, it may lead to an increased tax being charged, including tax surcharge and interest, and increased costs for the Group. Additionally, the tax deficits could decrease. If such risks are realised it could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.21 Liquidity and refinancing

Real properties are long-term assets that require long-term financing distributed between equity capital and interest-bearing debt. The Group therefore needs long-term financing and liquidity. Hence, the Group continuously renegotiates existing credit agreements and raises new financing. The Group is exposed to requirements in its credit agreements regarding the general economic climate or disturbances in the capital and credit markets. If such requirements are not met, the Group's ability to utilise existing credit may be significantly limited. The Group's credit agreements also expose the Group for counterparty risks. Furthermore, a downturn in the general economic climate, or disturbances on the capital or credit markets, may lead to limitations of the Group's access to financing. If the Group cannot raise necessary financing, or if the Group does not have sufficient liquidity to meet its obligations to refinance its existing financing agreements or to fulfil its acquisition strategy or is not able to refinance its financing arrangements on favourable terms, it could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.22 Interest rate risk

The Group's business is exposed to interest rate risk as costs and results may change as the market rates change. Floating rate financing agreements are directly exposed to the interest rate risk. Income and costs may be affected by interest rate changes, which may adversely affect the Group's cash flow. Interest rate changes could adversely affect the Group's cash flow and have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position.

2.1.23 Dependency on other companies within the Group

A significant part of the Group's assets and revenues relate to the Issuer's subsidiaries. The Issuer is thus dependent upon receipt of sufficient income and cash flow related to the operations of the subsidiaries. Consequently, the Issuer is dependent on the subsidiaries' availability of cash and their legal ability to make dividends which may from time to time be restricted by corporate restrictions and law. Should the Issuer not receive sufficient income from its subsidiaries, the investor's ability to receive payment under the Terms and Conditions may be adversely affected.

2.2 Risks relating to the Notes

2.2.1 Credit risk

Investors in the Notes carry a credit risk relating to the Issuer and the Group. Investors' ability to receive payment under the Terms and Conditions is therefore dependent on the Group's Financial Position. If the Group's Financial Position deteriorates it is likely that the credit risk associated with the Notes will increase since the risk that the Issuer cannot fulfil its payment obligations under the Notes increases. The Group's Financial Position is affected by numerous risk factors, some of which have been outlined above. An increased credit risk could result in the market pricing the Notes with a higher risk premium, which would adversely affect the market value of the Notes.

2.2.2 Refinancing risk

The Issuer may be required to refinance certain or all of its outstanding debt, including the Notes. The Issuer's ability to successfully refinance its debt is dependent on the conditions of the capital markets and the Group's Financial Position at such time. The Issuer's access to financing sources may not be available on favourable terms, or at all. The Issuer's inability to refinance its debt obligations on favourable terms, or at all, could have an adverse effect on the Issuer's ability to fulfil its payment obligations under the Notes and the Group's Financial Position.

2.2.3 Interest rate risk

The market value of the Notes is dependent on several factors, one of the most significant over time being the level of the general market interest rates. The Notes have a floating rate structure based on 3 months STIBOR plus the margin, and the interest rate of the Notes will be determined two business days prior to the first day of each interest period. Therefore, the interest rate is to a certain extent adjusted for changes in the level of the general market interest rate. An increase of the general market interest rate level could adversely affect the market value of the Notes. The general market interest rate level is to a high degree affected by the Swedish and the international financial development and is outside the Issuer's control.

2.2.4 Liquidity risks and secondary market

The Issuer has an obligation to ensure that the Notes are listed on Nasdaq Stockholm or any other Regulated Market within two months from the First Issue Date of the Notes. Even if the Notes are admitted to trading on Nasdaq Stockholm or any other Regulated Market, active trading in the Notes does not always occur and a liquid market for trading in the Notes might not occur even if the Notes are listed. This may result in that the Noteholders cannot sell their Notes when desired or at a price level which allows for a profit comparable to similar investments with an active and functioning secondary market. Lack of liquidity in the market may adversely affect the market value of the Notes. Furthermore, the nominal value of the Notes may not be indicative compared to the market price of the Notes if the Notes are admitted for trading on Nasdaq Stockholm or any other Regulated Market.

2.2.5 Risks related to the tenor of the Notes

The Notes and the other credit facilities available and utilised by the Issuer do not have the same tenor and the Issuer may amortise and make prepayments under such credit facilities without making corresponding amortisations or prepayments under the Notes. Shorter tenor of such credit facilities could have a negative impact on the interests of the Noteholders.

2.2.6 The market value of the Notes may be volatile

The market value of the Notes could be subject to significant fluctuations in response to actual or anticipated variations in the Group's Financial Position and those of its competitors, adverse business developments, changes to the regulatory environment in which the Group operates, changes in financial estimates by securities analysts and the actual or expected sale of a large number of Notes, as well as other factors. In addition, in recent years the global financial markets have experienced significant price and volume fluctuations, which, if repeated in the future, could adversely affect the market price of the Notes without regard to the Group's Financial Position.

2.2.7 Subsidiaries, structural subordination and insolvency of subsidiaries

A significant part of the Group's assets and revenues relate to the Issuer's subsidiaries. The subsidiaries are legally separated from the Issuer and the subsidiaries' ability to make payments to the Issuer is restricted by, among other things, the availability of funds, corporate restrictions and law restriction. Furthermore, in the event of insolvency, liquidation or a similar event relating to one of the subsidiaries, all creditors of such subsidiary would be entitled to payment in full out of the assets of such subsidiary before any entity within the Group, as a shareholder, would be entitled to any payments. Thus, the Notes are structurally subordinated to the liabilities of the subsidiaries. The Group and its assets may not be protected from any actions by the creditors of any subsidiary of the Group, whether under bankruptcy law, by contract or otherwise. In addition, defaults by, or the insolvency of, certain subsidiaries of the Group could result in the obligation of the Group to make payments under parent-, company-, financial-, or performance guarantees in respect of such subsidiaries' obligations or the occurrence of cross defaults on certain borrowings of the Group.

2.2.8 The Agent's actions and financial standing

By subscribing for, or accepting the assignment of, any Note, each Noteholder will accept the appointment of the Agent (being on the issue date Nordic Trustee & Agency AB (publ)) to act on its behalf and to perform administrative functions relating to the Notes. The Agent shall have, among other things, the right to represent the Noteholders in all court and administrative proceedings in respect of the Notes. However, the rights, duties and obligations of the Agent as the representative of the Noteholders will be subject to the provisions of the Terms and Conditions and the agency agreement, and there is no specific legislation or market practice in Sweden (under which laws the Terms and Conditions are governed) which would govern the Agent's performance of its duties and obligations relating to the Notes. A failure by the Agent to perform its duties and obligations properly, or at all, may adversely affect the enforcement of the rights of the Noteholders. Under the Terms and Conditions, the funds collected by the Agent as the representative of the Noteholders must be held separately from the funds of the Agent and be treated as escrow funds (redovisningsmedel) to ensure that in the event of the Agent's bankruptcy, such funds can be separated for the benefit of the Noteholders. In the event the Agent would fail to separate the funds in an appropriate manner, the funds could be included in the Agent's bankruptcy estate.

The Agent may be replaced by a successor Agent in accordance with the Terms and Conditions. Generally, the successor Agent has the same rights and obligations as the retired Agent. It may be difficult to find a successor Agent on commercially acceptable terms or at all. Further, the risk exists that the successor Agent would breach its obligations under the above mentioned documents or that insolvency proceedings would be initiated against it.

Materialisation of any of the above risks may have an adverse effect on the enforcement of the rights of the Noteholders and the possibility of the Noteholders to receive payments under the Notes.

2.2.9 Majority owner

Following any potential change of control in the Issuer, the Issuer may be controlled by majority shareholders whose interest may conflict with those of the Noteholders, particularly if the Group encounters difficulties or is unable to pay its debts as they fall due. A majority shareholder has the legal power to control a large amount of the matters to be decided by vote at a shareholder's meeting. For example, a majority shareholder will have the ability to elect the board of directors. Furthermore, a majority shareholder may also have an interest in pursuing acquisitions, divestitures, financings or other transactions that, in their judgment, could enhance their equity investments, although such transactions might involve risks to the Noteholders. There is nothing that prevents a shareholder or any of its affiliates from acquiring businesses that directly compete with the Group. If such an event were to arise, it could have adversely affect the Group's Financial Position. According to the Terms and Conditions, if a change of control event occurs, the Noteholders would however have a right of prepayment of the Notes (put option). There is thus a risk that the Issuer does not have enough liquidity to repurchase the Notes if the Noteholders use its right of prepayment, see further under Section Put options.

2.2.10 Security over assets granted to third parties

The Group may, subject to limitations, incur additional financial indebtedness and provide additional security for such indebtedness. In the event of bankruptcy, reorganisation or winding-up of the Issuer, the Noteholders will be subordinated in right of payment out of the assets being subject to security. In addition, if any such third party financier holding security provided by the Group would enforce such security due to a default by any Group Company under the relevant finance documents, such enforcement could have an adverse effect on the Group's Financial Position, and ultimately the position of the Noteholders.

2.2.11 Currency risks

The Notes are denominated and payable in SEK. If Noteholders measure their investment return by reference to a currency other than SEK, an investment in the Notes will entail foreign exchange-related risks due to, among other factors, possible significant changes in the value of the SEK relative to the currency by reference to which investors measure the return on their investments. This could cause a decrease in the effective yield of the Notes below their stated coupon rates and could result in a loss to investors when the return on the Notes is translated into the currency by reference to which the investors measure the return on their investments. Government and monetary authorities may impose (as some have done in the past) exchange controls that could adversely affect an applicable exchange rate or the ability of the Issuer to make payments in respect of the Notes. As a result, there is a risk that investors may receive less interest or principal than expected, or no interest or principal.

2.2.12 Early redemption (call options)

The Issuer has, subject to certain conditions, a right under the Terms and Conditions to redeem all outstanding Notes in advance. If so, a certain additional sum shall be paid. There is a risk that the market value of the Note at the time of redemption is higher than the price that the Issuer may be entitled to redeem the Notes for. However, an early redemption can never be made at an amount lower than 100 per cent. of the nominal amount.

2.2.13 Put options

According to the Terms and Conditions, the Notes are subject to prepayment at the option of each Noteholder (put options) upon the occurrence of a Change of Control Event, Listing Failure or Delisting. There is, however, a risk that the Issuer will not have sufficient funds at the time of such prepayment to make the required prepayment of the Notes which could adversely affect the Issuer, e.g. by causing insolvency or an event of default under the Terms and Conditions, and thus adversely affect all Noteholders and not only those that choose to exercise the option.

2.2.14 Dividends

In accordance with the Terms and Conditions, the Issuer is allowed to make dividends if not exceeding 50 per cent. of the Group's profit from property management after tax for the previous fiscal year, subject to the Incurrence Test being fulfilled. If any of these distributions are made, it could have an adverse effect on the Group's assets and on the position of the Noteholders.

2.2.15 Noteholders' representation

In accordance with the Terms and Conditions, the Agent represents all Noteholders in all matters relating to the Notes. However, this does not rule out the possibility that the Noteholders, in certain situations, could bring their own action against the Issuer, which could adversely impact an acceleration of the Notes or other action against the Issuer. To enable the Agent to represent the Noteholders in court, the Noteholders may have to submit a written power of attorney for legal proceedings. The failure of all Noteholders to submit such a power of attorney could adversely impact the enforcement of the Notes and the possibility for the Noteholders to exercise their rights under the Notes. Under the Terms and Conditions the Agent has the right in some cases to make decisions and take measures that bind all Noteholders. Consequently, the actions of the Agent in such matters could impact a Noteholder's rights under the Terms and Conditions in a manner that would be undesirable for some of the Noteholders.

2.2.16 Noteholders' meetings

The Terms and Conditions include certain provisions regarding Noteholders' meetings. Such meetings may be held in order to resolve on matters relating to the Noteholders' interests. The Terms and Conditions will allow for stated majorities to bind all Noteholders, including Noteholders who have not taken part in the meeting and those who have voted differently to the required majority at a duly convened and conducted Noteholders' meeting.

Consequently, there is a risk that the actions of the majority in such matters could impact a Noteholder's rights in a manner that would be undesirable for some of the Noteholders.

2.2.17 Restrictions on the transferability of the Notes

The Notes have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or any U.S. state securities laws. Subject to certain exemptions, a holder of the Notes may not offer or sell the Notes in the United States. The Issuer has not undertaken to register the Notes under the U.S. Securities Act or any U.S. state securities laws or to effectuate any exchange offer for the Notes in the future. Furthermore, the Issuer has not registered the Notes under any other country's securities laws. Each potential investor's has an obligation to ensure that the offers and sales of Notes comply with all applicable securities laws. Due to these restrictions, there is a risk that a Noteholder cannot sell its Notes as desired.

2.2.18 Risks relating to the clearing and settlement in Euroclear's book-entry system

The Notes will be affiliated to Euroclear's account-based system, and no physical Notes have been or will be issued. Clearing and settlement relating to the Notes, as well as payment of interest and redemption of principal amounts, will be carried out within Euroclear's book-entry system. Investors are therefore dependent on the functionality of Euroclear's account-based system.

2.2.19 Amended or new legislation

The Terms and Conditions are based on Swedish law in force at the date of issuance of the Notes. There is a risk that amended or new legislation, case law and administrative practices could adversely affect the market value of the Notes.

2.2.20 Conflict of interests

The Sole Bookrunner may in the future engage in, investment banking or other services for the Group in its ordinary course of business. Accordingly, conflicts of interest may exist or may arise as a result of the Sole Bookrunner having previously engaged, or will in the future engage, in transactions with other parties, having multiple roles or carrying out other transactions for third parties with conflicting interests.

3 ASSURANCE REGARDING THE PROSPECTUS

The issuance of SEK 200,000,000 of the total maximum of SEK 500,000,000 of the Notes was authorised by resolutions taken by the board of directors of the Issuer on 9 August 2017 and was subsequently issued by the Issuer on 15 September 2017.

The board of directors has taken all reasonable care to ensure that the information in this Prospectus is, to the best of its knowledge, in accordance with the facts and contains no omission likely to affect its import. Any information in this Prospectus and in the documents incorporated by reference which derive from third parties has, as far as the Issuer is aware and can be judged on the basis of other information made public by that third party, been correctly represented and no information has been omitted which may serve to render the information misleading or incorrect.

(www.riksbank.se). If no such rate is available, the most recently published rate shall be used instead.

- 1.2.4 A notice shall be deemed to be sent by way of press release if it is made available to the public within Sweden promptly and in a non-discriminatory manner.
- 1.2.5 No delay or omission of the Agent or of any Noteholder to exercise any right or remedy under the Finance Documents shall impair or operate as a waiver of any such right or remedy.

2 STATUS OF THE NOTES

- 2.1 The Notes are denominated in Swedish Kronor and each Note is constituted by these Terms and Conditions. The Issuer undertakes to make payments in relation to the Notes and to comply with these Terms and Conditions.
- 2.2 Each Noteholder is bound by these Terms and Conditions and the other Finance Documents without there being any further actions required to be taken or formalities to be complied with. Each Noteholder acknowledges and agree, either by subscribing for or acquiring Notes, that the Notes are subject to these Terms and Conditions and the other Finance Documents.
- 2.3 The nominal amount of each Note is SEK 1,000,000 (the “Nominal Amount”). The Total Nominal Amount of the Initial Notes is SEK 200,000,000 (the “Initial Note Issue”). All Initial Notes are issued on a fully paid basis at an issue price of 100 per cent. of the Nominal Amount.
- 2.4 The Issuer may, on one or several occasions, issue Subsequent Notes. The Issuer may, at one or several occasions after the First Issue Date, issue Subsequent Notes (each such issue, a “Subsequent Note Issue”), so long as the Total Nominal Amount under such Subsequent Note Issue(s) and the Initial Note Issue does not exceed SEK 500,000,000 and in each case provided that the Incurrence Test (tested pro forma including such Subsequent Note Issue) is met. Subsequent Notes shall benefit from and be subject to the Finance Documents, and, for the avoidance of doubt, the ISIN, the interest rate, the currency, the nominal amount and the final maturity applicable to the Initial Notes shall apply to Subsequent Notes. The issue price of the Subsequent Notes may be set at a discount or at a premium compared to the Nominal Amount.
- 2.5 The Notes constitute direct, general, unconditional, unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and shall at all times rank pari passu and without any preference among them and at least pari passu with all other direct, general, unconditional, unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Issuer, except obligations which are preferred by mandatory law and without any preference among them.
- 2.6 Upon a transfer of Notes, all rights and obligations under these Terms and Conditions and the other Finance Documents in relation to such Notes are automatically transferred to the transferee.
- 2.7 The Notes are freely transferable but the Noteholders may be subject to purchase or transfer restrictions with regard to the Notes, as applicable, under local laws to which a Noteholder may be subject. Each Noteholder must ensure compliance with such restrictions at its own cost and expense.
- 2.8 No action is being taken in any jurisdiction that would or is intended to permit a public offering of the Notes or the possession, circulation or distribution of any document or other material relating to the Issuer or the Notes in any jurisdiction other than Sweden, where action for that purpose is required. Each Noteholder must inform itself about, and observe, any applicable restrictions to the transfer of material relating to the Issuer or the Notes.

- 7.5 The Issuer shall pay any stamp duty and other public fees accruing in connection with a Note Issue, but not in respect of trading in the secondary market (except to the extent required by applicable law), and shall deduct at source any applicable withholding tax payable pursuant to law. The Agent shall, within 20 Business Days of the date on which the Agent received actual knowledge of that an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, decide if the Notes shall be so accelerated. If the Agent decides not to accelerate the Notes, the Agent shall promptly seek instructions from the Noteholders in accordance with Clause 15 (Decisions by Noteholders). The Agent shall always be entitled to take the time necessary to consider whether an occurred event constitutes an Event of Default (or any event that may lead to an Event of Default).

- 13.5 If the right to accelerate the Notes is based upon a decision of a court of law, an arbitral tribunal or a government authority, it is not necessary that the decision has become enforceable under law or that the period of appeal has expired in order for cause of acceleration to be deemed to exist.

- 13.6 In the event of an acceleration of the Notes in accordance with this Clause 13, the Issuer shall redeem all Notes at an amount per Note equal to the redemption amount due under Clause 9.3 (Voluntary total redemption (call option)), together with accrued but unpaid Interest.

- 14.1 All payments by the Issuer relating to the Notes and the Finance Documents following an acceleration of the Notes in accordance with Clause 13 (Acceleration of the Notes) shall be distributed in the following order of priority, in accordance with the instructions of the Agent:

- a) first, in or towards payment pro rata of (i) all unpaid fees, costs, expenses and indemnities payable by the Issuer to the Agent in accordance with the Agency Agreement (other than any indemnity given for liability against the Noteholders), (ii) other costs, expenses and indemnities relating to the acceleration of the Notes, the protection of the Noteholders' rights as may have been incurred by the Agent, (iii) any costs incurred by the Agent for external experts that have not been reimbursed by the Issuer in accordance with Clause 19.2.7 or subparagraph (ii) above, and (iv) any costs and expenses incurred by the Agent in relation to a Noteholders' Meeting or a Written Procedure that have not been reimbursed by the Issuer in accordance with Clause 15.13, together with default interest in accordance with Clause 8.4 on any such amount calculated from the date it was due to be paid or reimbursed by the Issuer;
- b) secondly, in or towards payment pro rata of accrued but unpaid Interest under the Notes (Interest due on an earlier Interest Payment Date to be paid before any Interest due on a later Interest Payment Date);
- c) thirdly, in or towards payment pro rata of any unpaid principal under the Notes; and
- d) fourthly, in or towards payment pro rata of any other costs or outstanding amounts unpaid under the Finance Documents, including default interest in accordance with Clause 8.4 on delayed payments of Interest and repayments of principal under the Notes.

Any excess funds after the application of proceeds in accordance with paragraphs a) to d) above shall be paid to the Issuer.

- 14.2 If a Noteholder or another party has paid any fees, costs, expenses or indemnities referred to in Clause 14.1 such Noteholder or other party shall be entitled to reimbursement by way of a corresponding distribution in accordance with Clause 14.1.

- 14.3 Funds that the Agent receives (directly or indirectly) in connection with the acceleration of the Notes constitute escrow funds (redovisningsmedel) and must be held on a separate interest-bearing account on behalf of the Noteholders and the other interested parties. The Agent shall arrange for payments of such funds in accordance with this Clause 14 as soon as reasonably practicable.

- 14.4 If the Issuer or the Agent shall make any payment under this Clause 14, the Issuer or the Agent, as applicable, shall notify the Noteholders of any such payment at least 15 Business Days before the payment is made. Such notice shall specify the Record Date, the payment date and the amount to be paid. Notwithstanding the foregoing, for any Interest due but unpaid the Record Date specified in Clause 7.1 shall apply.

The Agent shall not be responsible for the accuracy of such certificate or otherwise be responsible for determining whether a Note is owned by a Group Company or an Affiliate of a Group Company.
- 15.15 Information about decisions taken at a Noteholders' Meeting or by way of a Written Procedure shall promptly be sent by notice to the Noteholders and published on the websites of the Issuer and the Agent, provided that a failure to do so shall not invalidate any decision made or voting result achieved.
